SAFETY POLICY

Have you ever been on worker's compensation?

Explain:

It is the policy of Building Systems that the safety of our employees is considered the most vital aspect of our operation. Above all, personnel safety must be considered first when planning for construction and purchasing new equipment.

Management (which consists of the Company's officers) intends to provide the leadership and funds necessary to immediately eliminate unsafe practices and conditions at our construction sites and in our offices.

Secondly, a commitment to minimize equipment damage while maintaining construction schedules is expected from each employee. This effort should include establishing operating procedures, training of all employees for the equipment they are assigned to operate, and an effective prevention maintenance program to ensure that equipment is properly maintained.

SAFETY

To assist in providing a safe and healthful work environment for employees, Building Systems has established a workplace safety program. This program is a top priority for Management, which has the responsibility for implementing, administering, monitoring and evaluating the safety program. Its success depends on the alertness and personal commitment of each and every employee.

Building Systems provides information to employees about workplace safety and health issues through regular internal communication channels such as supervisor-employee meetings, bulletin board postings, foreman meetings, memos and other written communications.

Employees and supervisors receive periodic workplace safety training. The training covers potential safety and health hazards and safe working practices and procedures to eliminate or minimize hazards.

Some of the best safety improvement ideas come from employees. Those with ideas, concerns, or suggestions for improved safety in the workplace are encouraged to raise them with their foreman or supervisor or bring them to the attention of Management. All reports can be made without fear of reprisal.

Each employee is expected to obey safety rule and to exercise caution in all work activities. Employees must immediately report any unsafe condition to the appropriate supervisor. Employees who violate safety standards, who cause hazardous or dangerous situations, or who fail to report, or where appropriate, remedy such situations, may be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including termination of employment.

USE OF TOOLS, EQUIPMENT AND VEHICLES

Tools, equipment and vehicles essential in accomplishing job duties are expensive and may be difficult to replace. When using such property, employees are expected to exercise care, perform required maintenance, and follow all operating instructions, safety standards and guidelines.

Please notify your supervisor or foreman if any equipment, machines, tools, or vehicles appear to be damaged, defective, or in need of repair. Prompt reporting of damages, defects, and the need for repairs could prevent deterioration of equipment and possible injury to employee's responsibility for maintenance and care of tools, equipment and vehicles used on the job.

The improper, careless, negligent, destructive, or unsafe use or operation of tools, equipment or vehicles, as well as excessive or avoidable traffic and parking violations, can result in disciplinary action, up to and including termination of employment.

Building Systems requires all individuals operating company vehicles and personal vehicles for company purposes to undergo motor vehicle insurance checks and motor vehicle record checks.

DRUG AND ALCOHOL USE

It is the desire of Building Systems to provide a drug-free, healthful, and safe workplace. To promote this goal, employees are required to report to work in appropriate mental and physical condition to perform their jobs in a satisfactory manner.

While on Company premises and while conducting Company business-related activities off Company premises, no employee may use, possess, distribute, sell or be under the influence of alcohol or illegal drugs. The legal use of prescribed drugs is permitted on the job only if it does not impair an employee's ability to perform the essential functions of the job effectively and in a safe manner that does not endanger others in the workplace.

Violations of this policy may lead to disciplinary action, up to and including termination of employment, and/or required participation in a substance abuse rehabilitation or treatment program. Such violations may also have legal consequences. Employees with questions on this policy or issues relating to drug or alcohol use in the workplace should raise their concerns with their foreman or supervisor or with Management without fear of reprisal.

INSPECTIONS

As part of daily routine, Job Foreman and Supervisors should always be alert to unsafe conditions and acts, and should point out conditions which employees mat encounter. Daily reminders become daily routines.

Building Systems Safety Committee shall conduct formal inspections of job sites on a surprise basis and shall make notes on Safety Audit sheets (see following sample sheets) regarding what safety problems or potential safety problems may be found. If safety problems are found, a representative of the Safety Committee shall review any negative inspection reports with the Job Foreman, Supervisor, Job Superintendent and employees (as appropriate) and see that corrective action is taken on a timely basis. During such inspection, scaffolding. Ladders, equipment and tools shall be examined and material handling procedures shall be reviewed.

HAZARD COMMUNICATION

As part of your daily work routine, you will come into contact with substances which have been labeled as "hazardous", or potentially poisonous substances. These include, but are not limited to, cleaning products, toner used in copy machines and fax machines, gasoline, lime and the like. It is important that you are aware of the potential hazards involved in using such materials.

Make sure every container you use has a label.

- Report missing or illegible labels to your supervisor or superintendent.
- If you do not understand what a label means, ask your supervisor or superintendent before proceeding.
- Follow label precautions and directions for safe handling.
- Do not use unknown substances in containers which are not labeled.

Safety Data Sheets (SDS) are prepared be chemical manufacturers or distributors and can be requested by any purchaser or user of the product. They describe the hazards of the substances in question and how you can use them safely. Our federal government, through the Occupational Safety and Health Administration, requires that studies and research be conducted to ensure the accuracy of the information provided on SDS sheets. You may obtain a copy of the MSDS for any hazardous product which you use on the job by asking your supervisor or superintendent.

TOOL BOX TALKS

Tool box talks provide excellent training for employees and provide continuous reinforcement of this company's safety program.

Supervisors and Job Foremen shall conduct periodic Tool Box Talks. Attendance of all employees at these talks is mandatory. The subject matter of these Talks shall be timely and pertinent to the job at hand. If an employee has been warned about an unsafe act or there have been any on-the-job injuries during the week due to an unsafe act, the Tool Box Talk shall deal with the subject of such actions. Job Foremen and Supervisors shall keep a written record of all Tool Box Talks and those employees attending same and shall provide those records to Management as requested. Employees are encouraged to speak up at all Tool Box Talks with any suggestions they may have to avoid future accidents.

TRANSITIONAL DUTY

Our company has developed a return-to-work program as a benefit for all employees. If an employee is disabled and unable to perform the regular job, we will make every effort to speed recovery through the use of transitional duty. Working with the treating physician, we will develop a temporary position that matches the physical restrictions established by the doctor. In most cases this transitional duty will last no longer than 30 days, renewable for additional 30 days.

DIRECT DEPOSIT INFORMATION

We are pleased to offer direct deposit for all employees. This is a free service where your paycheck is automatically deposited into your checking and/or savings accounts. The monies will be available each Friday morning. Your paycheck stub will be mailed to your home or you may pick it up at the office. Our bank (Fultonbank.com) is also offering free checking accounts to any employees who wish to use their banking facilities.

All you have to do is let us know what account / accounts you would like the funds to be deposited into. This can be done by either giving our payroll department (1.) a copy of a check or (2.) a voided check for the account/accounts you wish funds to be deposited into. We will be able to set up the direct deposit system for you. Please note if the account is a money market or checking account. You can have your foreman take a picture of a check and text it to the office.

Also, please fill in the caption below. If you are splitting your paycheck between accounts list the amounts you want in the accounts.

Form W-4 (2014)

Purpose. Complete Form W-4 so that your employer can withhold the correct federal income tax from your pay. Consider completing a new Form W-4 each year and when your personal or financial situation changes.

Exemption from withholding. If you are exempt, complete only lines 1, 2, 3, 4, and 7 and sign the form to validate it. Your exemption for 2014 expires February 17, 2015. See Pub. 505, Tax Withholding and Estimated Tax.

Note. If another person can claim you as a dependent on his or her tax return, you cannot claim exemption from withholding if your income exceeds $1,000 and includes more than $350 of unearned income (for example, interest and dividends).

Exceptions. An employee may be able to claim exemption from withholding even if the employee is a dependent, if the employee:

- Is age 65 or older,
- Is blind, or
- Will claim adjustments to income; tax credits; or itemized deductions, on his or her tax return.

The exceptions do not apply to supplemental wages greater than $1,000,000.

Basic instructions. If you are not exempt, complete the Personal Allowances Worksheet below. The worksheets on page 2 further adjust your withholding allowances based on itemized deductions, certain credits, adjustments to income, or two-earners/multiple jobs situations.

Complete all worksheets that apply. However, you may claim fewer (or zero) allowances. For regular wages, withholding must be based on allowances you claimed and may not be a flat amount or percentage of wages.

Head of household. Generally, you can claim head of household filing status on your tax return only if you are unmarried and pay more than 50% of the costs of keeping up a home for yourself and your dependent(s) or other qualifying individuals. See Pub. 501, Exemptions, Standard Deduction, and Filing Information, for information.

Tax credits. You can take projected tax credits into account in figuring your allowable number of withholding allowances. Credits for child or dependent care expenses and the child tax credit may be claimed using the Personal Allowances Worksheet below. See Pub. 505 for information on converting your other credits into withholding allowances.

Nonwage income. If you have a large amount of nonwage income, such as interest or dividends, consider making estimated tax payments using Form 1040-ES, Estimated Tax for Individuals. Otherwise, you may owe additional tax. If you have pension or annuity income, see Pub. 505 to find out if you should adjust your withholding on Form W-4 or W-4P.

Two earners or multiple jobs. If you have a working spouse or more than one job, figure the total number of allowances you are entitled to claim on all jobs using worksheets from only one Form W-4. Your withholding usually will be most accurate when all allowances are claimed on the Form W-4 for the highest paying job and zero allowances are claimed on the others. See Pub. 505 for details.

Nonresident alien. If you are a nonresident alien, see Notice 1392, Supplemental Form W-4 Instructions for Nonresident Aliens, before completing this form.

Check your withholding. After your Form W-4 takes effect, use Pub. 505 to see how the amount you are having withheld compares to your projected total tax for 2014. See Pub. 505, especially if your earnings exceed $130,000 (Single) or $180,000 (Married).

Future developments. Information about any future developments affecting Form W-4 (such as legislation enacted after we release it) will be posted at www.irs.gov/w4.

Privacy Act and Paperwork Reduction Act Notice. We ask for the information on this form to carry out the Internal Revenue laws of the United States. Internal Revenue Code sections 3402(f)(2) and 6109 and their regulations require you to provide this information; your employer uses it to determine your federal income tax withholding. Failure to provide properly completed form will result in your being treated as a single person who claims no withholding allowances; providing fraudulent information may subject you to penalties. Routine uses of this information include giving it to the Department of Justice for civil and criminal litigation; to cities, states, the District of Columbia, and U.S. commonwealths and possessions for use in administering their tax laws; and to the Department of Health and Human Services for use in the National Directory of New Hires. We may also disclose this information to other countries under a tax treaty, to federal and state agencies to enforce federal nontax criminal laws, or to federal law enforcement and intelligence agencies to combat terrorism.

You are not required to provide the information requested on a form that is subject to the Paperwork Reduction Act unless the form displays a valid OMB control number. Books or records relating to a form or its instructions must be retained as long as their contents may become material in the administration of any Internal Revenue law. Generally, tax returns and return information are confidential, as required by Code section 6103.

The average time and expenses required to complete and file this form will vary depending on individual circumstances. For estimated averages, see the instructions for your income tax return

If you have suggestions for making this form simpler, we would be happy to hear from you. See the instructions for your income tax return.
